

School lockdowns and other emergencies have become daily events across the country. Often, parents only find out about such incidents from news broadcasts, when they arrive at their child's school or when their child arrives home. This can sometimes add to the confusion as parent's may receive incorrect or incomplete information. Parent's can now receive an alert on their cell phone or via email within minutes by using this free service.

When an unplanned event happens, we post the complete, accurate information on LockDownAlert.com. The next time there is an unplanned event at your child's school, you will receive a text message alert or email directing you to a web page with full details and instructions.

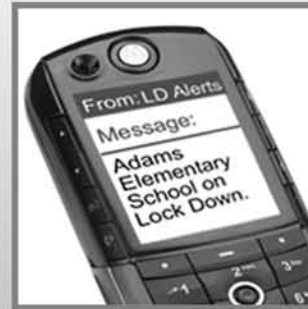

Lockdownalert.com works with any pre-kindergarten, kindergarten, elementary school, middle school, high school, special education or vocational public school in the United States. Simply choose the school for which you want to be alerted and enter your cell phone number or email address.

You do not need to supply any personal information. The information is only used to send out alerts. It will never be sold or shared for advertising or any other purpose that is not related to an actual school event.
